Holmes Community College evolved from Holmes County Agricultural High School, which was formed in 1914. By 1922, the state legislature allowed agricultural high schools to add two years of college work, one year at a time, if facilities, faculty and course offerings met the State Department of Education's standards.

In May 1925, the board voted unanimously to cease offering ninth grade classes and begin offering the first year of college. The State Department of Education approved their plans the following month.

In the fall of 1925, under the leadership of M.E. Morehead, the college began offering college classes.

The school had nine faculty members and 110 boarding students. The college was accredited by the Mississippi Association of Colleges in 1926 and became a member of the Mississippi Junior College Literary and Athletic Association in 1928.

At the time, the college had three main buildings, the administration building (now McDaniel), the girls' dormitory and the boys' dormitory. In addition to providing a laboratory for teaching agricultural science, the college's cattle, poultry, orchard and garden supplied almost everything necessary for the dorm students' meals.

With the fall of 1928, Holmes experienced a number of changes. Morehead resigned and M.C. McDaniel was selected to succeed him. The second year of college work was offered. A gymnasium was built in 1928; the board supplied $4000 for materials while male students and faculty provided the labor.

During this year, the school's newspaper, The Growl, began publication. Originally called The Cornerstone, the college's yearbook also began publishing during the school year. However, due to the economic depression, publication was temporarily suspended in 1932.

In 1929, Carroll County joined Holmes County in supporting the institution.

The band and Glee Club were organized in the 1929-30 school year.

Several building and renovation projects were completed in 1931. These included a new boys' dorm, an auditorium annex on the administration building, an agricultural cottage, home science cottage, renovations of the existing dormitories, purchase and renovations of home to be used as the residence for the school's top official.

In 1933, the title for the school's top administrator was changed from superintendent to president. The following year, the college was admitted as a full-fledged member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and became a member of the American Association of Junior Colleges.

The Alumni Association was formed in 1934.

M.E. Morehead

Marvin Eugene Morehead was selected as superintendent of Holmes County Agricultural High School in 1923. At the time, plans were already underway to add the first year of a college curriculum at the school.

In May 1925, the board voted to drop the ninth grade classes and add the first year of college work.

Under Morehead's leadership, the college built a solid foundation. It was accredited by the Mississippi Association of Colleges in 1926. The addition of second year of college classes was approved by the Mississippi Junior College Accrediting Commission in the spring of 1928.

Morehead resigned shortly thereafter to take another position.

M.C. McDaniel

M.C. McDaniel was selected to succeed M.E. Morehead in the summer of 1928.

During his tenure, Carroll County joined Holmes in support of the institution.

The college was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The school became a member of the American Association of Junior Colleges.

The enrollment grew significantly during this period and the physical plant expanded to keep pace with the demands.

He resigned in 1940.

Despite the hardships of the Great Depression, Holmes was able to provide its students with a good education and a good meal, thanks to its cattle, poultry, orchard and garden used in teaching agricultural science.

Ras M. Branch

Ras Marshall Branch came to Holmes in 1929 as a science teacher and football coach. He also served as athletic director. In honor of his dedication and service to the school and its athletic program, the newly built football field was named in his honor in 1936.

In 1940, he was selected by the Board of Trustees to succeed M.C. McDaniel as president. During his tenure, the college continued to grow at a rapid pace and he made certain the physical plant and course offerings expanded accordingly.

A native of Goodman, he held a bachelor's degree from Mississippi College and a master's degree from the University of Alabama. He and his wife, the former Nell Yarborough of Pickens, had two children, Katherine Branch McCain Shute and Bettye Branch Mitchell.

In 1949, he suffered a severe heart attack and resigned as president a few months later. He was appointed to the Board of Trustees the following year. He died in 1956.

Goodman Campus students enjoy the back-to-school dance with the band "Sun 16" in the Canteen. Dances were first allowed to be held on campus in 1939.

One of the most memorable moments caught on film during World War II was the flag-raising on the island of Iwo Jima in the Pacific. That small, barren island cost the lives of over 6,000 U.S. Marines before it was secured. Situated almost halfway between the Marianas and Tokyo, the island played an important role in the air war.

In 1936, the football stadium was built and named in honor of the coach, Ras M. Branch.

Branch became the president in 1940 following McDaniel's resignation.

Extra-curricular activities were expanded and included athletics, the band, the Glee Club, debating, dramatics, the International Relations Club, religious organizations and the two publications, the school newspaper The Grow Land and the yearbook, which changed its name from The Cornerstone to Horizons in 1941.

In 1939, dances were allowed to be held on campus for the first time.

In appreciation for McDaniel's dedication to the college, the administration building was named for him.

Other buildings built during this period include an annex to the girls' dorm, the band hall, a canning plant and a laundry. The Goodman Grammar School was purchased and renovated as a boys' dorm.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools evaluated both the high school and the college in 1942 and found both to be in excellent condition.

The Band Hall (former)

Holmes Junior College continued its growth and progress at the steady, sure rate set in the previous decades.

Just as the country adjusted to post-war life, Holmes adjusted to fill the post-war needs of its community. In 1946, a veteran's dormitory was added to the campus.

Two wartime prefabricated naval barracks buildings were obtained from the government at no cost. These two buildings were converted into dormitory space for boys and apartments for married couples.

Other changes to the facilities included replacing the old bleachers with new concrete ones; building a manual arts building, a grade A dairy barn and an addition to the home ec building; renovating the administration building, the married veterans' building into a music department on the first floor and a science department on the second; and converting the old grammar school into six faculty apartments.

In May 1948, Ras Branch suffered a severe heart attack and resigned as president the following January.

The board appointed Clarence W. Lorange as the fourth president of Holmes. Branch was appointed to the board in March.

Soon after Lorange became president, construction began on a new gym and was completed in December 1951.

A new student center was built on the site of the previous gymnasium. It included the bookstore, the canteen, a recreation hall, a lobby and equipment.

The Bulldogs football team was particularly strong during this decade. In 1945, Holmes played against Hinds in the first ever junior college bowl game, the Lions Bowl Game in Laurel. They also played in the Toy and Doll Bowl Game in Hattiesburg in 1946 and the Lions Bowl again in 1950. After beating Scooba in the 1950 Lions Bowl Game, the squad went on to play in the Memorial Bowl Game in Jackson and the Gulf Bowl in Del Mar, Texas. They won state championships in the 1945-46 and 1950-51 school years.

Their fellow Bulldogs on the men's basketball squad brought home the state championship trophy in 1952.

Clarence W. Lorance

When the Board of Trustees selected Clarence W. Lorance to follow Ras M. Branch as president of Holmes in 1949, Lorance had been at the school for 10 years. During that time, he served as principal of the high school, teacher of mathematics and dean of men.

Before coming to Holmes, he had taught at Gannison and had been superintendent at Holly Bluff for several years.

He held a bachelor's degree from Mississippi College and a master's degree from George Peabody College.

He served as president from 1949 until his death from a severe heart attack in 1955.

The Student Center bears his name.

Students in the 50s enjoyed congregating in the original Lorance Student Center as much as today's students enjoy meeting each other in the current Lorance Student Center. The former Lorance Student Center is now being used as the Social Science Building and also holds the Public Information Office. This photo originally appeared in the 1953 Horizons.

In June 1950, the armed forces of communist North Korea smashed across the 38th parallel of latitude and invaded the Republic of Korea. South Korea's army was smaller and not as well trained and equipped as North Korea. In a matter of days, Seoul had fallen and South Korea's army was in full retreat. In response, 16 nations, including the U. S., sent troops to the aid of South Korea. A peace treaty was signed in July 1953.

The Fourth

Holmes' fourth decade had a rather tragic beginning in the latter half of 1955.

The Student Center constructed in 1952 was destroyed by fire in July 1955. President Lorange suffered a severe heart attack and died on Nov. 29, 1955.

Upon completion of the newly rebuilt student center, it was named in memory of Clarence Lorange and his many years of service and dedication to the school.

Frank B. Branch was elected by the board of trustees to fill the position of president.

Despite its tragic beginning, this decade proved to be one of the most influential in determining the college's future.

Through the efforts of the administration, the board, faculty, alumni and friends of the college, seven other counties, including Attala, 1956; Montgomery, 1958; Grenada, 1959; Choctaw, 1959; Madison, 1961; Webster, 1963; and Yazoo, 1964; joined Holmes and Carroll counties to form the nine-county district the college still serves today.

The college renovated all existing structures and realized that increasing enrollments would necessitate expansion. This would require the procurement of additional land, which the college did. With 128 acres added to the campus, the collegeset in motion a long-range plan that included a number of new structures. These included McMorrough Library, 1961; Motel Dormitory for boys, 1962; and Attala Hall, 1962; Carroll Cafeteria, 1963; and Montgomery Fine Arts Building, 1965.

Holmes continued to flourish in extracurricular activities as well. The men's basketball team won the state championship in 1956.

The international honor society for two year schools, Phi Theta Kappa, granted Holmes its first charter in March 1959 and the Kappa Alpha chapter was founded.

Tennis returned to the college after an 11-year hiatus. In 1956, Holmes football player Tommy Guthrie played in the first annual Junior College All American game. Holmes alumni were even gathering national attention, as Ode Burrell, a former standout on the Bulldog football squad and now HCC Sports Hall of Fame member, signed a professional contract with the Houston Oilers in 1964.

In November 1960, at the age of 43, John F. Kennedy became the youngest man ever elected president of the United States. Before he completed his third year as president, he was assassinated in Dallas, Texas, on Nov. 22, 1963. Young people especially admired him and perhaps no other president was so popular.

Beginning his career as a minister, Martin Luther King Jr. devoted much of his life to the civil rights movement. King's finest hour came on Aug. 28, 1963, when he led the great march in Washington, D.C., that culminated with his famous "I have a dream" speech at the Lincoln Memorial. He was assassinated in Memphis in 1968.

Frank B. Branch

Frank B. Branch came to Holmes in 1936 and served the college in numerous capacities before being named president.

He taught history, served as contact man, assistant football coach, head football coach, athletic director, girls' basketball coach, men's basketball coach, track coach, baseball coach, dean of men and high school principal all before being named president in 1955.

During his 21 year tenure as president, Branch brought in seven additional counties to join the two already in place in supporting the institution.

He received his bachelor's degree from Mississippi College and a master's degree from the University of Alabama. He coached and taught at Mississippi City, Pace High School and Ackerman High School in addition to his work at Holmes.

During his presidency, he also served as colonel on the staff of Gov. J.P. Coleman; president of the Mississippi Association of Junior Colleges; vice-president and then president of the Mississippi Association of Colleges and Universities; a member of the Mississippi Junior College Commission, Legislative Committee for Mississippi Junior Colleges, Lay Study Committee which recommended to the Mississippi Legislature the division of Mississippi into junior college districts; chairman of the Agricultural High Schools and Junior Colleges Division of Mississippi Educational Association; past president of the Goodman Lions Club; past president of the Goodman Community Club and a deacon of Main Street Baptist Church in Goodman.

The Fifth

The period of the late 60s through early 70s was a time of great change in the United States, especially in the South. However, Holmes remained immune to much of the strife by staying true to its mission of serving the people of central Mississippi.

While the state moved from its agricultural roots to a more industrialized economy, the college adapted by continuing to add more vocational-technical programs as the demands for workers trained in these areas grew.

In addition to the cosmetology, radio and television and drafting programs already in place, Holmes established programs in automotive mechanics, electronic servicing, machine shop, practical nurse education, refrigeration and air conditioning, welding, secretarial training, drafting and design technology, building and construction technology and data processing.

Holmes began offering classes at off-site locations such as Kosciusko, Winona, Canton, Grenada, Lexington, Kilmichael and Yazoo City.

Students were offered the opportunity to participate in a wide array of extracurricular activities. The Student Government Association, the Women's Judicial Council, the Collegiate Civitan Club, the Dramatics Club, Phi Theta Kappa, Phi Beta Lambda, the Debating Club, the Lottie Peebles Home Economics Club, the Cosmetology Club, the Chess Club, the Christian Council, Baptist Student Union, Wesley Foundation, the Newman Club, and Vocational-Industrial Clubs of America were all offered to Holmes students during this time.

Although women's basketball had been played at Holmes for many years, the first athletic scholarship was signed by a female athlete in April 1975.

Branch Coliseum was built near the end of this decade. Both Branch Coliseum and McDaniel Building were dedicated on April 24, 1974.

The long-awaited goal of landing a man on the moon was achieved in 1969. The historic flight of Apollo 11 was launched on July 16. After entering lunar orbit, astronauts Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Neil A. Armstrong transferred to the lunar module. Michael Collins remained in lunar orbit following the separation and piloted the command module. The lunar module descended to the surface of the moon on July 20, landing at the edge of Mare Tranquillitatis. A few hours later, Armstrong stepped onto the surface of the moon while millions watched on television. His first words were, "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."

This decade proved to be one of great change. Frank B. Branch decided to retire in 1976 and M.R. Thorne replaced him as president.

Holmes continued expanding the physical facilities to better meet the needs of the students. A new library was built in 1975.

In the athletic arena, the A.A. Derrick Jr. Field House was dedicated in 1976 and a new track was completed in 1979.

A building to hold the mechanics shop and welding shop was added in 1978. That same year, Madison Hall, a dormitory for male students, was destroyed by fire.

Holmes athletic teams continued to excel; the football team again won the state championship in 1981.

The greatest change to occur at the college during these ten years was the establishment of two satellite campuses, one in Ridgeland and one in Grenada.

The decision to build new centers in the northern and southern extremes of the geographically large district came as a result of extensive study and strategic planning conducted in 1981 and 1982 involving all segments of the two year college community.

The main purpose for the centers was to make the educational programs and services of the college available to a greater percentage of the district's population. Under the leadership of the Board of Trustees, the new facilities were planned and built in the communities of Grenada and Ridgeland.

This decade of Holmes' history closed with the opening of the Grenada Center in the fall of 1985.

Richard M. Nixon was the first U.S. president to resign his office. He won the presidency in 1968 promising a quick end to the Vietnam conflict, but in reality he enlarged and continued America's active role until 1973. Re-elected by a landslide in 1972, Nixon was brought down by revelations of administration misdeeds collectively known as "Watergate." Facing certain impeachment, he resigned in August, 1974.

Two Grenada Center students work on projects for a class in the electronics technology program. Opening in 1985, the Grenada Center offers a wide variety of programs to students, whether they are planning to transfer to a four-year school or not. In addition to the academic transfer courses available, the center offers a number of health-related programs. The center has an excellent licensed practical nursing program, associate degree nursing program and a surgical technology program. Other programs offered include electronics technology, business and office technology and forestry.

M.R. Thorne

M.R. Thorne came to Holmes in 1959 as an industrial education instructor. The following year he began teaching drafting and design technology. In 1966, he was named director of vocational technical education and served in that post until 1975.

For one year, he served as administrative assistant to the president under Frank B. Branch before being named as president in 1976. Thorne served in this capacity until his retirement in 1989.

A native of Iuka, Thorne received his bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University in 1959 and his master's degree from the same institution in 1964.

During his tenure, Holmes expanded by opening campuses in Ridgeland and Grenada.

In honor of his dedication to the college both as its president and a member of the vocational technical department, first as an instructor and later as its director, the Vocational Technical Building was recently renamed and dedicated as the M.R. Thorne Vocational Technical Building.

He and his wife, Aline, who was also a Holmes staff member for a number of years, reside in Kosciusko. They have two children, Sandra Thorne Cook and Michael Thorne, who are both alumni, and one granddaughter, Lauren.

The college's seventh decade began auspiciously with the opening of the campus in Ridgeland, which began offering classes in the fall of 1985.

Great changes continued to shape the college. M.R. Thorne announced his retirement as president in 1989.

Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr. took office as the college's top administrator on July 1, 1989, the same date the college changed its name from Holmes Junior College to Holmes Community College. In November of 1988, the Board of Trustees took the initial steps to change the name of the institution to more accurately reflect the comprehensive and multi-faceted mission of the modern two-year college. The new name was subsequently approved by the State Board of Community and Junior Colleges in December 1988.

In 1989, Alumnus Dr. Samuel O. Massey established a $500,000 scholarship fund from which is drawn the resources to educate individuals who attend Holmes and continue their studies to ultimately become members of the medical profession.

Holmes' students continued to represent the college well throughout the state. In 1988, the Ridgeland Campusscholars bowl team took top honors over the state's other community and junior colleges as they won first place in the Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl held annually at the University of Mississippi.

In 1990-91, the Lady Bulldogs women's basketball team won the state championship and placed second in the Region XXIII championship. The following year, the team repeated winning the state championship and this time also won the Region XXIII championship. The regional victory garnered them a spot in the National Junior College Athletic Association championship tournament, where they placed fifth.

The first Miss Holmes Community College Pageant was held in 1990. Laurie Reynolds, the first Miss Holmes Community College, represented the college at the Miss Mississippi Pageant the following July.

tory was built with the help of many Holmes instructors and private businesses. Work on the observatory began in Sept. 1990 and was completed on Sept. 28, 1991, when the 14 inch Schmidt-Cassegrain telescope made by Celestron was installed. The first light seen was Saturn. Funding for the project was provided by a grant through the Instrumental and Laboratory Improvement Program which is part of the National Science Foundation.

In 1993, a new men's dormitory, Kelly Gene Cook Sr. Dormitory, was built. The structure is named for an alumnus whose foundation offered the college a $500,000 matching grant during its "Lighting the Way" Campaign.

Holmes, in conjunction with its Development Foundation, launched the drive in 1992. The funds raised in the campaign were matched by both the Cook Foundation and a United States Department of Education Title III strengthening institutions endowment challenge grant. Many alumni, friends and supporters of the college gave generously to make the campaign very successful.

Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr.

Starkey A. Morgan Sr. became the seventh president of Holmes Community College July 1, 1989, the same date that the college officially became Holmes Community College instead of Holmes Junior College.

He came to Holmes from Itawamba Community College, where he had held positions as Administration and Business Director and as the Assistant Director of Vocational-Technical Education.

He graduated from Greenville High School and received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Mississippi State University. In 1987, he earned the Doctor of Education Degree from Ole Miss.

Active in professional and civic affairs, he is past president of the Holmes County Economic Development Authority; serves on the executive committee of the Private Industry Council of the Central Mississippi Service Delivery Area; serves as a Commissioner on the Mid-Delta Empowerment Zone Alliance; and serves as the Secretary-Treasurer of the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges.

He is married to the former Martha Rowe, of Greenville, and they have three children, Lorraine, Starkey Jr., and Walter. They are members of the United Methodist Church.

He has spent his adult life educating the young people in several schools and colleges in Mississippi and is committed to improving educational programs which include not only the academic, vocational and technical areas, but also the arts and extra-curricular activities, such as academic honor societies and sports, so that students can develop into well rounded, productive citizens.

The past five years in Holmes' history are no less dramatic in change and significance than the first 70.

Just as Holmes adapted to fit the needs of the students of central Mississippi as the state shifted from an almost exclusively agricultural economy to a more industrialized one, the college continues to adapt, with the movement now going in a technological direction.

Holmes is well prepared to face a technology-driven future beyond 2000. The Computer Technology Center was completed on the Goodman Campus in 1997.

Through the Community College Network, students from all three campuses can participate in one class simultaneously. This also allows students to take classes from other community colleges without leaving their own campus.

The number of computers used by students, faculty and staff has increased dramatically over the past five years.

The Internet is an indispensable tool for both students and faculty. Plans are underway for a media center on the Ridgeland Campus that will offer the very latest in technology.

In 1997, Holmes returned to Kosciusko with the opening of the newly-built Attala Educational Center. Holmes vacated the previous Attala County facility in 1992, with a promise to return when the county's board of supervisors provided a facility.

The Attala Educational Center offers an array of educational opportunities and will remain flexible in course offerings to meet the needs of the residents of Kosciusko and Attala County.

Holmes Community College students continued to be recognized throughout the state and beyond.

The Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl trophy was won once again by a Holmes team, with the Goodman scholars taking first place in 1998 in the event held annually at Ole Miss.

In 1996, the Bulldog football team won the north half and a trip to the State Championship. In an extremely hard fought game, the Bulldogs lost to Hinds, 27-22.

In 1997, the choral groups gave their international debut in Spain, performing in three cities: Monseratt, Valencia and Barcelona.

A Grenada Center student works diligently on an assignment in one of his classes in the computer network technology program. The program is another example of how Holmes Community College keeps pace with the changing needs of the nine counties, its citizens and employers, in the school's central Mississippi district. Technology has been a vital part of shaping the institution and, with this technology in place, stands ready to accept the challenges of the 21st century.

Rita Jones

In the 19 years that Rita Jones has been at Holmes Community College, she has brought hundreds of characters in dozens of plays to life on the stages of the Goodman Campus.

Whether comedies, dramas, or melodramas, one-act or three acts, the drama and speech instructor spends countless hours helping each individual student bring his or her best performance to the stage. Jones wears many hats, including director, producer, casting director and acting coach, when bringing the plays to life. From choosing the play to striking the set, each endeavor is a labor of love for Jones and her student thespians.

In addition to introducing students to the thrill of performing for a live audience, she has also helped many students conquer what is for many their greatest fear, public speaking. Through her speech classes, students learn the skills necessary to speak comfortably in front of groups.

With a generosity of spirit, she has shared the love of her craft of acting with actors and audiences alike. This is coupled with a love of teaching that is evidenced by the countless hours she spends with individual actors as well as entire casts teaching the finer points of acting. She also serves as adviser for the two drama groups on campus, Holme-Towne Players and Delta Psi Omega.

It is for her tireless efforts and steadfast dedication to Holmes Community College, the Fine Arts Department and its students, that this, the 71st edition of Horizons, is dedicated to Rita Jones.

Dr. Starkey A . Morgan Sr . leads Holmes toward bright future

Holmes Community College has enjoyed the benefits of steadfast leadership from the office of the president throughout its 75 years. Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr., the seventh president of Holmes, continues this tradition of progress, growth and commitment.

During his tenure, the college has experienced enrollment increases while the physical plant has been expanded to accommodate the students and better serve their needs.

With technology as one of the strongest influences in the world today, Dr. Morgan has seen that Holmes puts this technology into the hands of both its students and staff members. During recent years, facilities with computers, such as the Computer Technology Center, the Career Center and numerous other labs on all three campuses, have been of great benefit to students.

The planned media center on the Ridgeland Campus is another phase in the ongoing commitment the college has to maintaining facilities that keep pace with the latest advances in technology.

As part of that commitment, the new Industrial Training Center at the Grenada Center of Holmes will be used for industrial training and allied health programs. The building was brought about through a joint effort of Holmes, Heatercraft, Inc., and the City of Grenada.

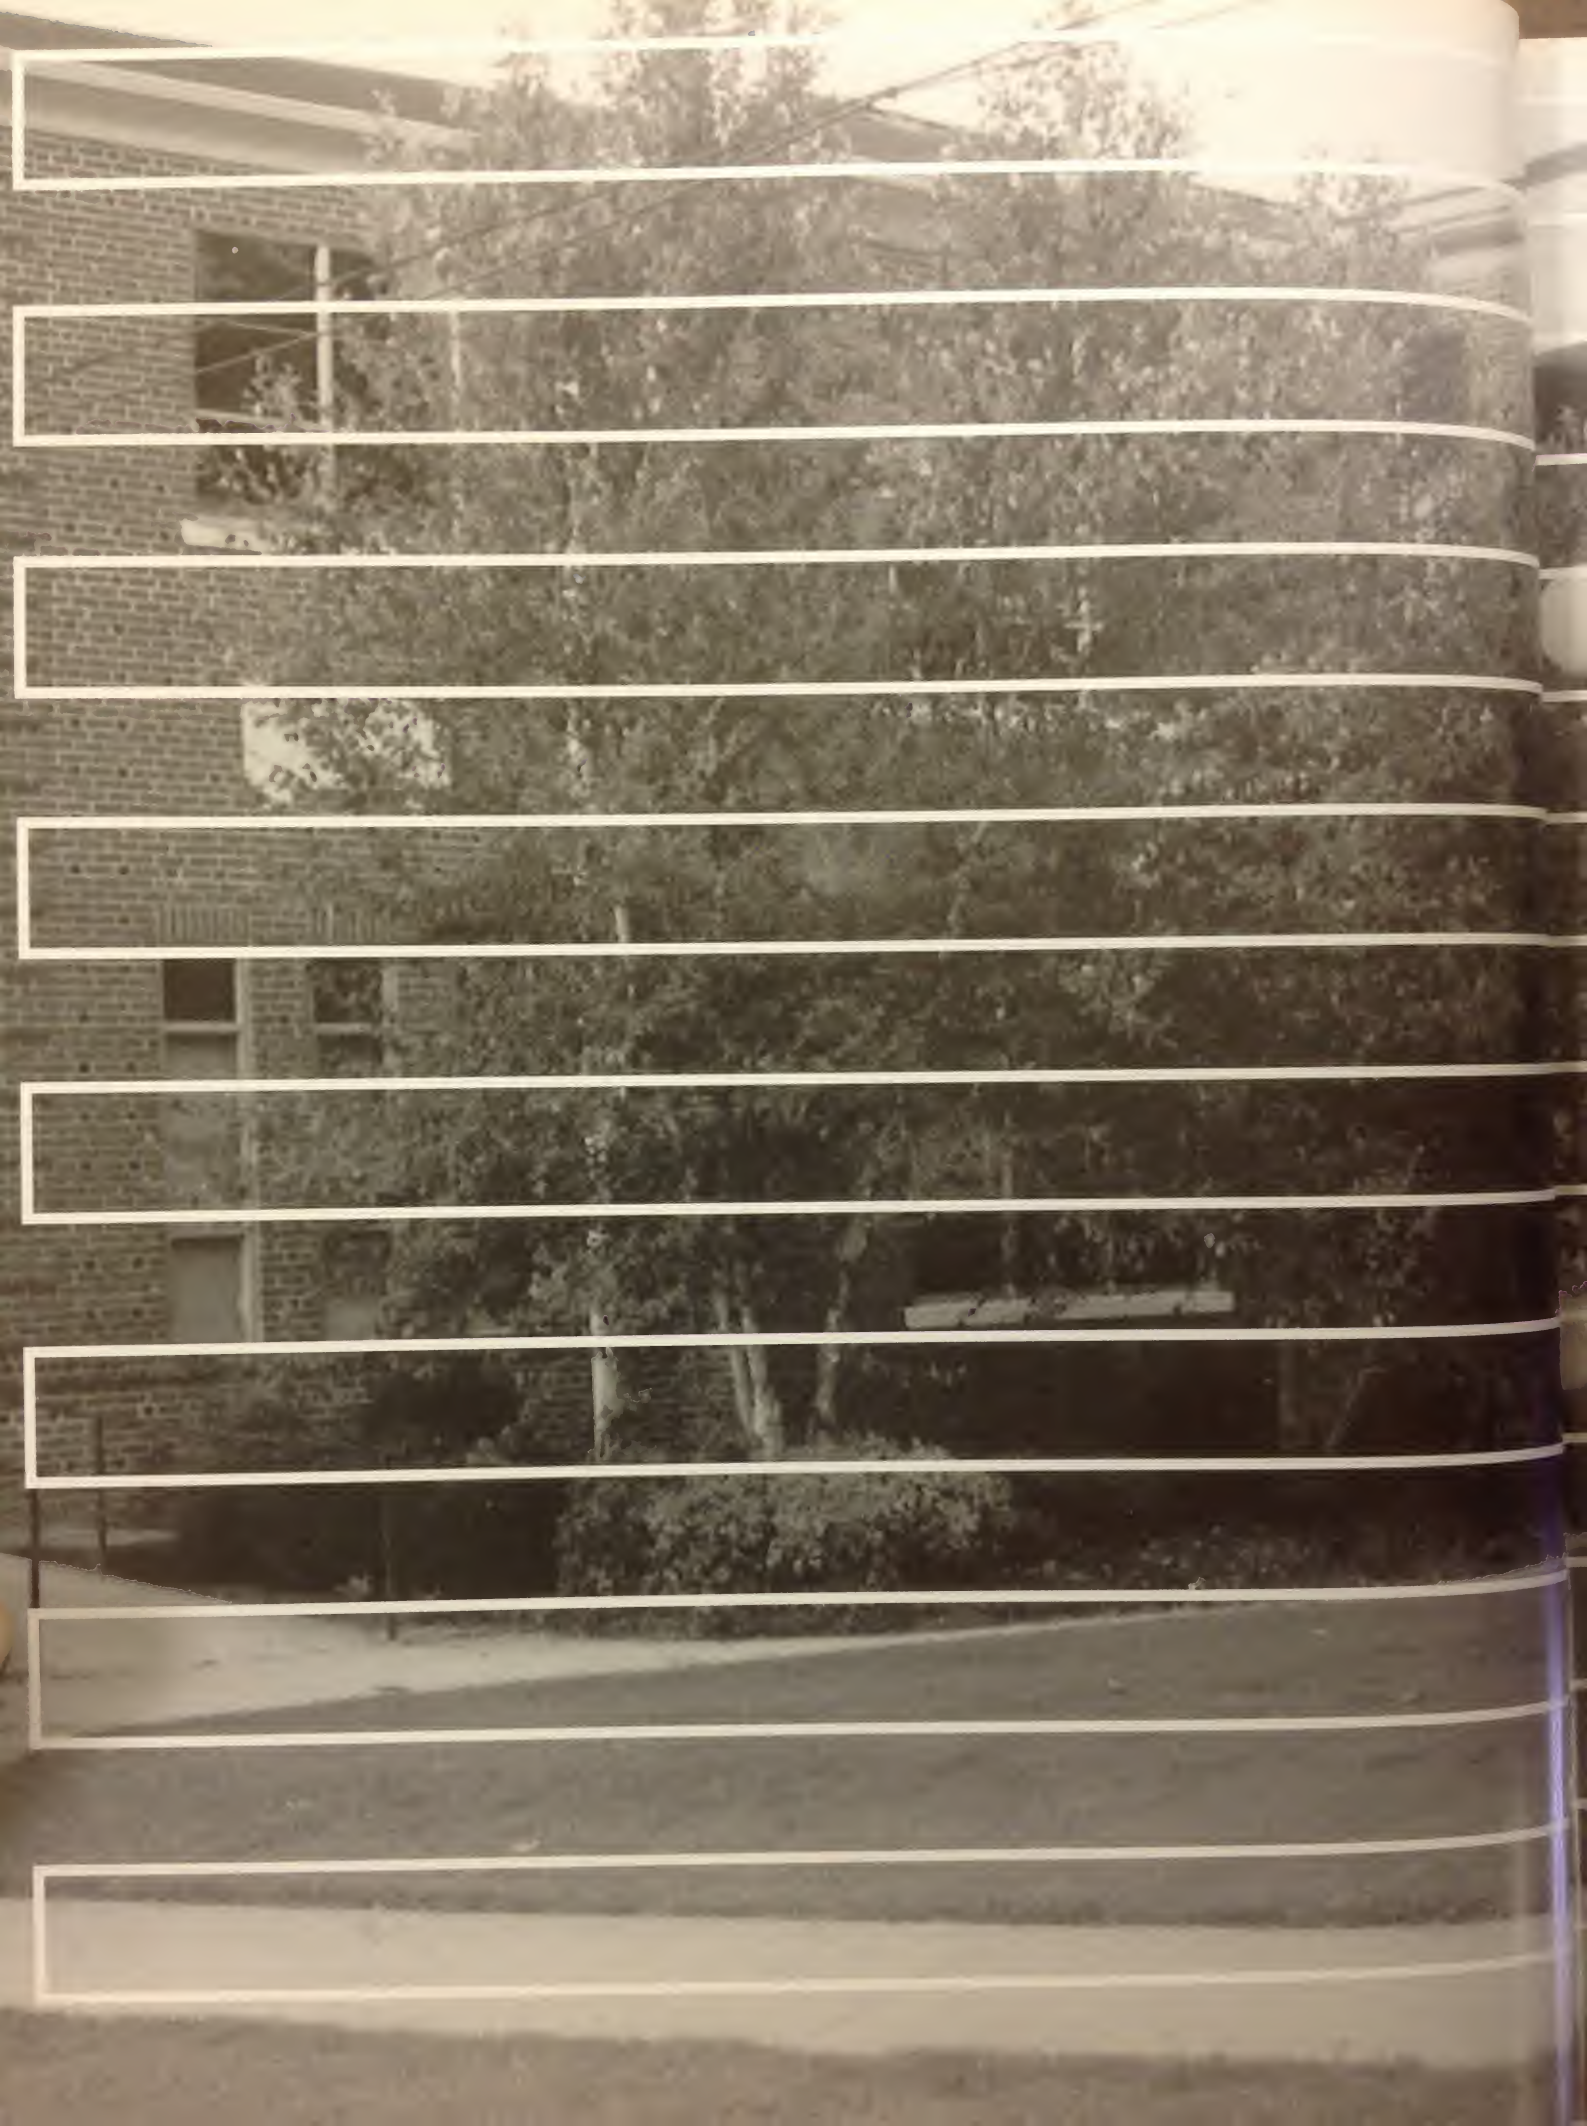

The partnership between Holmes and Heatercraft was recognized by the State Workforce Development Council who presented Heatercraft with a Best Practice Award and Holmes with an Outstanding Training Award.

Dr. Morgan's commitment to the students' overall educational experience goes beyond improving the academic, vocational and technical programs to providing outstanding extracurricular opportunities, including the arts, sports and honor societies.

This year, the Concert Choir made its second international appearance with a Goodwill European Tour. They performed in such venues as Trinity Cathedral in Stratford, England; the Millennium Dome in London; and Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris.

With the addition of a men's soccer team on the Goodman Campus, athletic offerings have continued to expand. Bulldog athletics go far beyond the traditional football, basketball and baseball to offer both its men and women student athletes ample opportunities to hone their skills and enjoy their sport of choice.

During the past 75 years, Holmes has grown from one campus supported by two counties to three campuses serving a nine-county district. With the year 2000, Holmes celebrates not only the progress of the past but also the opportunities of a future made brighter by the leadership of its president, Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr.

Holmes provides diversity, timeliness in course offerings

Times change. And so do the classes. Class offerings have been added and deleted from the schedule at Holmes Community College to fit the times.

A student who arrived in 1925 would be amazed at the diversity of offerings today and the endless possibilities they can lead to.

Whether straight out of high school or returning to begin on a path to a new career, a student can step on to the Goodman Campus and ultimately end up in the job of their dreams.

A graduate holding an associate of arts degree from Holmes can feel confident that they are well-prepared for the upper level courses at a four-year school.

The courses required of Holmes' first college students included English, mathematics, foreign language, history, economics, sociology, home economics, stenography and typing, bookkeeping and wholesale accountancy.

While some of these requirements may seem antiquated to the class of 2000, many of them are still included in the core of courses students must take to receive an associate's degree today.

The student from 1925 would be astonished at the vast array of available classes on the schedule each semester. Of course, the changes have occurred gradually.

In the early 30s, four kinds of diplomas, regular, music, expression, and commercial, required 64 hours for graduation and were transferable.

During World War II, Holmes, like many other colleges in the country, offered many academic and vocational courses which helped with the war effort. National defense programs included mechanical drawing, general shop, physics, photography, Red Cross, and commercial courses. Returning veterans could choose from a number of newly added vocational programs including cabinet making, refrigeration, radio repair, expanded commercial courses, house wiring, and et-

Technical programs offered included secretarial training, drafting and design technology, building and construction technology. Data processing was added in 1967 with the completion of the business building.

Holmes also continued to add academic offerings during this time. Forestry, chemistry, biological science, pre-pharmacy, pre-veterinary, pre-engineering technology, physical therapy, architecture, computer science, criminal justice, social work, journalism, and art education.

Throughout the past three decades, Holmes has continued to offer courses of study where there is the greatest demand. Sometimes this has meant adding courses and other times it has meant discontinuing programs.

Some of the programs added during this time include child care technology, associate degree nursing, surgical technology, occupational therapist assistant technology, funeral service technology, plastics technology, marketing management technology and collision technology repair to name but a few.

An engineering technology program was created, which gives the student in the program the option of earning a terminal two-year degree or transferring to a four-year university offering a related course of study. In this engineering technology program a student can major in architectural engineering technology, construction engineering technology, drafting and design technology, industrial engineering technology, mechanical engineering technology, and technology teacher education.

Today, Holmes uses the very latest in technology to provide students with a quality education. Some courses are offered on-line while others are offered over the Community College Network. Using the CCN, students at Holmes can learn from and interact with a teacher and other students who are miles away.

Although the course offerings and methods of teaching have changed quite a bit during Holmes' 75-year history, one thing has remained a constant.

The instructors, whatever the course or program may be, seek to give the students the highest quality education possible. And they also strive, by giving each student personalized attention, to help each student achieve their potential.

Holmes offers both licensed practical nursing and associate degree nursing programs.

Six faculty members selected to attend Lamplighters Conference

An annual conference that promotes learning and helps community college instructors to improve their teaching technique, the Lamplighters Project is held each fall on the campus of one of the community colleges in the state. Two instructors from each campus or center of each college are invited to attend the conference.

This is the ninth year that Holmes Community College has participated. Each instructor selected is recommended by the academic dean or vice president at each campus and is approved by the president, Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr.

The criteria for recommendation are: (1) they must be an experienced instructor and have been at Holmes for at least five years; (2) this is their first time to be selected to attend.

Jan Reid-Bunch

As the director of choral and vocal activities at Holmes Community College, Jan Reid-Bunch serves as the director of three choral ensembles: Cocert Choir, Coachmen and The Holmes Connection!

Under her direction, the choral groups have been featured entertainment aboard Royal Majesty Cruise Lines to Cozumel, Mexico, and Carnival Cruise Lines to the Bahamas. They have performed in venues ranging from Walt Disney World to Carnegie Hall.

They were selected as the demonstration group for Branson Jubilee and to represent Mississippi at the 1998 National Festival of States in Washington, D. C. They entertained at the International Phi Theta Kappa Convention in Dallas, Texas, and gave their international choral debut in the country of Spain, performing in three cities: Monseratt, Valencia and Barcelona.

Bunch holds a bachelor's degree in music from the Mississippi University for Women and a master's degree in music from the University of Mississippi. She has also done post-graduate work at Ole Miss.

Bunch serves as an adjudicator for choral and vocal festivals statewide and is an active member of the American Choral Director's Association, Mississippi Music Teachers Association, National Association of Teachers of Singing, Mississippi Community/Junior College Choral Association, and is listed in Outstanding Young Women of America.

Bunch's husband, Will, works as a basic skills specialist with workforce development at Holmes. They reside in Goodman with their son Russell, 1.

Fran Cox

Math instructor Fran Cox teaches on the Goodman Campus, where she was formerly a science and technology instructor.

Cox holds both a bachelor's and master's degree from Mississippi State University.

She and her husband, Butch, owner of Cox Stables, reside in Lexington. They have two children, Cody, 20, and Lane, 13.

Bill Gressett

Ridgeland Campus instructor Bill Gressett teaches chemistry and biological sciences. He has taught at Ridgeland since its opening in 1986.

In addition to his teaching duties, he also serves as co-sponsor of Math and Combined Sciences Club on the Ridgeland Campus.

An alumnus of Meridian Community College, he holds both a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi. He has also completed post-graduate work at Southern.

He is listed in Who's Who Among Teachers.

He and his wife, the former Mary Belkap, reside in Jackson with their two sons, Chris, 16, and Clayton, 11.

Rickye Norris

Holmes alumnus Rickye Norris teaches drafting and design on the Ridgeland Campus.

He also holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi. He has done additional work at both Mississippi State University and Jackson State University.

Sarah Rounsaville

He and his wife, Martha, who serves as day reception clerk at Ridgeland, have two children. Both Holmes alumni, Heather is a registered nurse and Mitchell is in his first year of law

Sarah Rounsaville, an associate degree nursing instructor at the Grenada Center, also attended the Lamplighters Conference.

Rounsaville holds a bachelor's degree in nursing from Mississippi College and a master's degree in nursing from the University of Southern Mississippi.

She is married to Billy Rounsaville, who is self-employed. They have three children: John, 25, who works for Rep. Chip Pickering in Washington, D.C., Dave, 23, who works for the Corps of Engineers at Grenada Lake, and Dawn, 19, who is a freshman at Holmes.

In addition to teaching, Rounsaville also enjoys reading, camping and sewing.

Debbie Treloar

Debbie Treloar is an associate degree nursing instructor at the Grenada Center of Holmes.

Treloar received her associate's degree in nursing in 1979 from Northwest Mississippi Community College and her bachelor's degree in nursing from the University of South Alabama in 1992. She also holds a master's degree in nursing from the University of Mississippi Medical Center. She is a certified family nurse practitioner.

Before coming to Holmes, she served as director of nursing at a long term care facility.

She is married to Jack Treloar, who is the Webster County Vocational Director. They have two children, Jason, 16, and Justin, 14. A native of Mantee, she also enjoys crocheting and crafts and reading.

Long has 28 years experience as a registered nurse in management, staff education and education. She has worked as a U. S. Army nurse and as director of nursing at a military hospital in Saudi Arabia.

She is married to Hugh Long, a district engineer with the Mississippi Department of Transportation.

Six students represent Holmes on Phi Theta Kappa Academic Team

Six Holmes students were selected to represent the college as members of the 2000 Mississippi All State Academic Team, sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society, the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges and "The Clarion Ledger."

With international headquarters located in Jackson, Phi Theta Kappa is the honor society for two year schools. Each PTK chapter in the state chooses two of its members to represent it on the All State Academic Team. Selection is based on the students' scholastic achievements, community involvement, leadership capabilities and college service activities. The information is submitted to a panel of independent judges along with faculty recommendations and an essay written by the student. These judges choose 10 students as members of the first team based on these applications.

The six Holmes students selected were honored at a luncheon in Jackson along with the other students chosen from throughout the state.

Charles Dannel

Jackson sophomore Charles Dannel is a business major on the Ridgeland Campus.

Dannel serves as president of the Alpha Lambda Sigma chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and as regional vice president for the Mississippi Louisiana Region of PTK.

A recipient of an ACT scholarship, he is also a member of the Ridgeland Campus scholar's bowl team. He belongs to Phi Beta Lambda, Social Science Forum and the America Reads Challenge tutorial program.

Named to the National Dean's List, Dannel plans to transfer to the University of Texas, Austin, Texas, after completing his studies at Holmes.

Alisa Kirk

Goodman Campus sophomore Alisa

Kirk is a liberal arts major from Winona.

In addition to performing with the marching, concert and jazz bands at Holmes, Kirk is also a member of the Kappa Alpha chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the Baptist Student Union and the Holmes Ambassadors.

A President's Scholar, Kirk was named to the Dean's List and participated in the Phi Theta Kappa Honors Forum.

After Holmes, Kirk plans to attend Delta State University.

Tanya Leggett

A business major on the Ridgeland Campus, Tanya Leggett is a sophomore from Ridgeland.

Leggett serves as vice president of service for the Alpha Lambda Sigma chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. She is a member of the Social Science Forum and the Creative Arts Club.

A President's Scholar, she was honored at the Natchez Literary Celebration with a certificate of award in creative writing.

She plans to attend Belhaven College after Holmes.

Christa Mims

She serves as vice president of service for the Alpha Mu Beta chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and as president of the

Goodman, Ridgeland campuses send teams to annual scholars bowl

When 12 students and three advisers from Holmes arrived in Oxford last February, they carried on a tradition of excellence established by the scholars who have competed for the college for many years.

Each February, Holmes Community College sends two teams, one from the Goodman Campus and one from the Ridgeland Campus, to the Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl, held annually on the Oxford Campus of the University of Mississippi.

Each community college campus with full campus status may enter a team, which consists of four members and two alternates. Contestants must answer questions ranging from math and science to history and literature in the double elimination tournament.

Holmes has twice brought home the first place trophy.

The Ridgeland Campus won first place in 1988 and the Goodman Campus garnered the trophy in 1998.

The 1988 Ridgeland Campus team members included Kevin Crothers, Andy Lowry, Martin Gayle and Joe Kraft. History instructor Rus Bishop served as sponsor.

Members of the 1998 Goodman Campus team included Michael Dew, Elizabeth Schur, Jason Adams and Dan Osborne. Psychology instructor Kimberly Stoker served as sponsor.

Members of the 1993 Goodman Campus team, including Boris Maglie, Jeff Mitchell, Rob Jones, Greg Robertson and Sam Brown, sponsor, received a trophy for third place.

Both the Goodman Campus team and Ridgeland Campus team spent many hours preparing for competition by answering study questions and competing against one another.

Members of the 2000 Goodman Campus team, who were selected from the Honors Forum class, included Sarah Johns, Teresa Beck, Summer Horne and Jason Kyle. Kimberly Stoker served as the sponsor for the group.

The 2000 Ridgeland Campus team consisted of Cameron Sykes, Charlie Dannel, Erica Robinson and Clayton Slaughter. Rus Bishop and John Switzer both served as sponsors.

Members of the winning team receive scholarships to the University of Mississippi.

Holmes celebrates 71st Commencement

Speaking to the graduates at the college's 71st Commencement, Dr. Marilyn Burrell, assistant to the president of Holmes Community College, encouraged the students to take responsibility for their careers and to make lifetime learning an integral part of achieving their potential.

These were not simply words of wisdom she imparted upon the students; this was the example she set throughout her life, which ended Oct. 25, 1999, after an extended illness.

Dr. Marilyn M. Burrell came to Holmes Community College in 1990 as the director of the drug-free schools and communities program through the Department of Education. She also served as director of support services at the college before being named assistant to the president in 1995.

A native of Clarksdale, Dr. Burrell pursued her college education in Texas, at Baylor University and Howard Payne University, where she received her bachelor's degree in 1964 with a major in English and education and a minor in history.

After returning to Clarksdale, she married and reared two sons, Will and David, both recent graduates of Mississippi State University.

In 1982, Dr. Burrell enrolled at Delta State University and received a master's degree in natural science in 1984 and a doctor of education in professional studies in 1988.

Before coming to Holmes, Dr. Burrell taught high school biology, chemistry and advanced chemistry as well as environmental education at the college level.

Having been involved in Project Learning Tree, an environmental education program, since its implementation in Mississippi, she has won several state and national awards for her service. She also served as industrial services coordinator at Coahoma Community College in Clarksdale prior to coming to Holmes.

Dr. Burrell currently serves as regional director for Region IV of the Council for Resource Development.

ganization, Association for Institutional Research, she serves as president of MAIR for the 1994-95 term.

Dr. Burrell has been a member of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, Mississippi Academy of Science, Mississippi Professional Educators, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Delta Kappa Gamma, and Beta Beta Beta. She has served as president of Mississippi Science Teachers Association and vice president of Kristi Gallaway received the M.C. McDaniel Award. A recipient of the Kelly Gene Cook Scholarship and the President's Scholarship, Kristi Gallaway was a radio-logical technology major on the Goodman Campus.

As a freshman, Gallaway was a cheerleader and a member of the Concert Choir and the Student Government Association. As a sophomore, the Benton native served as captain of the cheerleaders, treasurer of Phi Theta Kappa and was a member of the Concert Choir, tennis team, the Ambassadors and SGA. She was elected to serve as a homecoming maid and a sophomore favorite.

Ridgeland Campus student Ryan Dyer received the Robert Cox Memorial Scholarship Award and was also named Outstanding Phi Theta Kappan for the Alpha Lambda Sigma chapter. An accounting major, Ryan Dyer was a member of the Student Government Association, Phi Theta Kappa and the soccer team. He also served as president for Math and Combined Sciences.

He served as president of Phi Theta Kappa and treasurer for SGA as a sophomore. He was elected Mr. HCC, Ridgeland Campus, and named to the National Dean's List.

Cody Cox, a pre dental major on the Goodman Campus, was named Outstanding Phi Theta Kappan for the Kappa Alpha chapter. At Holmes, he served as reporter for the Student Government Association, vice president of Math and Combined Sciences and as chapter president of Phi Theta Kappa. He was also regional reporter for the Mississippi/Louisiana region of Phi Theta Kappa. He was also a member of the Concert Choir, the Growl and the Scholars Bowl Team.

The Lexington native was also elected most intellectual freshman and a sophomore favorite.

Grenada Center student Heather Bennett Henderson received the Outstanding Phi Theta Kappan for the Alpha Mu Beta chapter. A Tillatoba resident, she is a psychology major and plans to attend Delta State University after completing her studies at Holmes.

A pre-occupational major on the Goodman Campus Leslee Stokes of Durant was named valedictorian. Lexington native Jaki Hearn, an accounting major on the Goodman Campus, was named salutatorian.

Graduates (l-r) Michelle McLellan of Durant, Kristy Gallaway of Benton, Candace Cain of Sallis, and Leslee Stokes of Durant enjoy the friendships and accomplishments gained over the past two years at Holmes. Gallaway was the recipient of the M.C. McDaniel Award; Stokes was named valedictorian.

the Delta Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa.

Named ALL STAR Teacher by the Mississippi Economic Council in 1990, Dr. Burrell was also listed in Who's Who in Mississippi. She received an Outstanding Service Award from the Southern Region of the American Forest Council in 1989.

Dr. Burrell and her husband, Johnny Mack Burrell, reside in Goodman. He is also employed at Holmes as the assistant director of vocational-technical education and director of JTPA.

Several students were recognized during the ceremony for their accomplishments during their two years at Holmes.

Looking back on the past, many things have changed. We now have the Internet, whereas a few decades ago we were amazed by a simple calculator. We have evolved from using records to computer discs. And whatever happened to disco? Will it ever return? One thing is evident. Things have changed. Come with Horizons as we examine the different trends throughout our fabulous 75 year history.

In Holmes' early days, ladies wore dresses and bobbed hairstyles. The gentlemen portrayed a very mature look, wearing suits with the choice of a neck or bowtie. With a little grease and a comb, the guys wore wavy hair.

This trend continued for a bit longer than the age of do-wop came into play. It was a time with dance and romance. The women had a dazzling look wearing polka skirts, while the men sported letters and leather jackets.

Next on the timeline we have the hippie. The younger generation chose to go a different route compared to years past. Women went with bell-bottom jeans and multi-colored shirts. The guys went in pretty much the same direction. Afros and straight hair all the way down the back were the hairstyles for both genders.

Today's fashion is very diverse. Today's society has mixed a little bit the old with a little bit of the new. Today women show off a variety of different fashion. The independent woman now wears suits to show their intelligence and independence. The ladies have also brought back the bell-bottom jeans as well as a variety of pants, suits and dresses.

The men have also evolved on the fashion train. Most men prefer a nice pair of jeans with a collared shirt to match. They also enjoy a variety of suits, pants, sweaters, vests and shirts. Like the women, the men have reached back into the past and stolen the afro. And, believe it or not, the bald head has become quite a trend for men.

BULLDOGS HAVE A Groovy GOOD TIME

Homecoming activities don't just begin homecoming morning; they last all week. Some students show their school spirit by dressing with the theme of the day. Club members work diligently on creating the best looking signs for the banner competition. The winners are announced during the homecoming game.

Other activities include Sidewalk Cafe, which is held once each semester in the breezeway between the LRC and the Canteen. Those attending enjoy desserts provided by the members of Goodman Campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. The Jazz Band provides entertainment.

Thursday evening there is a parade, which features the Bulldog Band, the cheerleaders, the football team, and members of the homecoming court. Immediately following the parade is the rally, which is followed by a dance, held on the tennis courts. The band, "The Krackerjacks," played at the dance.

M GAMEDAY Memories

On homecoming day, there were a myriad of activities for students, their parents, alumni and friends of the college to enjoy.

The day got underway with a cross country meet on Bulldog Trails and an alumni softball game followed.

This year, two Goodman Campus buildings were named and dedicated for individuals who demonstrated extraordinary service to Holmes for many years.

The dedication of the M.R. Thorne Vocational Technical Building was held in front of the building being renamed in honor of the man who served as president of Holmes from 1976 until his retirement in 1989. Thorne came to Holmes in 1959 and served in a number of positions before being named president. He now resides in Kosciusko.

The Henry B. McClellan Jr. Administration Building was also dedicated. The building was dedicated in memory of the man who served Holmes for 33 years until his death last year. McClellan attended HCC from 1960 to 1962. He returned in 1966 as a vocational guidance counselor. He was named executive vice president and business manager in 1973.

A reception was held at Holmes House followed by an Alumni Association business meeting.

At the picnic in the grove, guests enjoyed a picnic luncheon while the Steel Drum Band and the Jazz Band entertained. Children enjoyed the moonwalk and having their pictures made with Bully and Miss Bully.

The Goodman Campus men's soccer team faced off against East Mississippi.

The Holmes Connection! performed in McDaniel Auditorium. The homecoming day performance is traditionally their first show of the year.

A pep rally in the grove followed the Connection! performance. This got Bulldog fans fired up for the football game against East Mississippi Community College. The Bulldogs won the game 31-25.

An Unforgettable Evening

BEAUTY REVIEW 1999

With over 50 contestants, the 1999 Beauty Review was certain to live up to its theme, "Unforgettable."

The pageant actually began in the afternoon, when the judges interviewed each contestant individually. These scores were tallied in with the scores from the Evening Gown I Competition.

During Evening Gown I Competition, each contestant modeled her gown as the master of ceremonies, Don Harthcock, read a brief biography of her. After the interview scores and evening gown scores were added together, the top 10 finalists were announced.

Following a brief intermission and entertainment provided by Jenni McCrory of Kilmichael, who also opened the pageant with her rendition of "Unforgettable," the top ten finalists competed in Evening Gown II Competition. The top 10 finalists included Rebecca Byrd, Neeli Cox, Tiffany Early, Karmon Evans, Elizabeth Ann Fisher, Jennie Garrett, Cherrie Herard, Samantha Marchant, Tara Martin and Amber Worsham.

With all previous scores dropped, the top 10 finalists returned to the stage and modeled their evening gowns once more for the judges. From this final phase of competition, the top four beauties and most beautiful were named.

Karmon Evans from the Goodman Campus was named most beautiful. The beauties included Tiffany Early, Grenada Center; Elizabeth Ann Fisher, Goodman Campus; Jennie Garrett, Ridgeland Campus and Cherrie Herard, Goodman Campus.

Performance groups maintain tradition of great shows

The performing arts have a long standing tradition of excellence at Holmes Community College.

The Bulldog Band marches during halftime of all home football games and many away games also. In addition to the marching band, instrumentalists can join the Jazz Band and the Concert Band. Percussionists can participate in the Percussion Ensemble or one of two Steel Bands, one for beginners and one for more advanced players.

Vocalists also have a number of groups to choose from. The Concert Choir, The Coachmen and The Holmes Connection! bring a vast array of musical choices to their audiences. Two highly anticipated events each year are the Carols of Christmas Concert held at the end of the first semester and the Pops Concert held at the end of the second semester.

The drama groups, Holme Towne Players and Delta Psi Omega, also bring quality performances to their audiences. With at least one performance each semester. This year, there were two, "Crimes of the Heart" and "An Evening of Tennessee Williams," which featured three one act plays by the Mississippi Playwright.

Contestants of the Womanless Beauty Review (l-r) Forrest Moss, Clay Mullins, Joey Rutkowski, James Papizan, Jonathan Kimbrough. Most Beautiful; Kelly Tyler, Bryan Allen, Shaka Cotton and Albert Pickett all say "cheese" for the camera. The event was held by the Dazzlers as a fund-raising project.

Leadership skills honed by HCC activities

Whether attending the Goodman Campus, the Ridgeland Campus or the Grenada Center, Holmes Community College students have a variety of opportunities to develop their leadership abilities.

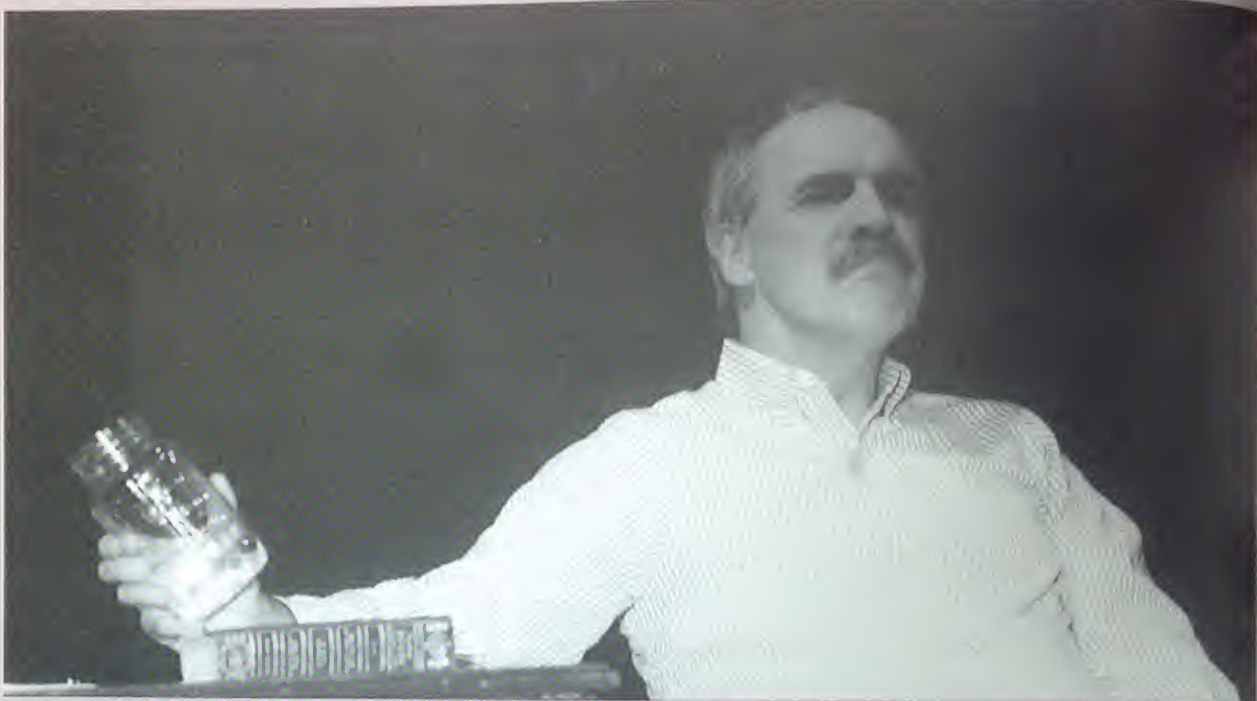

Whether a student is elected to the Student Government Association, selected to serve as a Holmes Ambassador, has earned invitation to join Phi Theta Kappa, or has chosen to serve with the Collegiate Exchange Club, these groups provide a way to improve and enrich their own lives as well as those of others.

The Student Government Association acts as a liaison between the students and the administration.

The group is responsible for planning and executing many of the activities, such as dances, Fall Fest on the Ridgeland Campus, Spring Fling and many of the events held the week of homecoming.

The Holmes Ambassadors students recruitment team works diligently all year to help recruit future students by attending college and career days at area high schools, give campus tours and correspond with potential students. They also help freshmen find their way around campus during orientation and registration.

Phi Theta Kappa is the international honor society for two-year schools. Holmes' first chapter, Kappa Alpha, was chartered on the Goodman Campus in 1959. The Ridgeland Campus has the Alpha Lambda Sigma chapter, while the Grenada Center has the Alpha Mu Beta chapter.

Holmes alumnus John Maxwell portrays Mississippi author William Faulkner as he performs his one-man show "Oh, Mr. Faulkner, Do You Write?" on the Goodman Campus. His performance was sponsored by Student Support Services.

Organizations related to a particular subject matter, program or discipline can often be one of the most interesting and fun groups to join.

Class related clubs run the gamut from Math and Combined Sciences and the Social Science Forum to the Cosmetology Club and the Forestry Club.

Students who have a creative bent, those who have a way with words and those who have both can join the Creative Arts Club, the Grow! news paper staff or the Horizons yearbook staff.

Those in medical related technical programs can join Health Occupation Student Association, Occupational Therapy Assistants Club, and the Student Nurses Association.

The business minded students can join Phi Beta Lambda or Delta Epsilon Chi.

PBL promotes all types of business technology and education, provides open forums and conferences on related topics and promotes the expansion and improvement of business technology and education programs.

Delta Epsilon Chi is an organization for students majoring in marketing and management.

Students enrolled in any vocational or technical program can join VICA, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, which was established to encourage, through club activities, the development of social and leadership abilities as well as skills.

The Baptist Student Union, the Wesley Foundation and Campus Christian Organization are open to any interested student.

These groups complete a number of projects throughout the year and often blend learning with service.

The clubs often send delegates to state and national conferences. Holmes has been well represented as these students compete in state and national competitions in their field or discipline.

Members not only attend conferences related to their subject matter, they often work together in service projects ranging from collecting money from the March of Dimes to sponsoring blood drives on campus.

These organizations give students the opportunity to interact with others with similar interests and can greatly enhance what is learned in the classroom.

So whether the students are attending a conference together, painting a homecoming banner together or gathering canned goods together, the class related groups have become an essential part of student life at Holmes Community College.

Cosmetology Club members work on their artwork for the homecoming banner competition.

Nick Creel of Benton prepares to give blood with the aid of Stacy Flemming, a medical historian from Jackson. The drive was sponsored by Goodman Campus groups VICA and Phi Theta Kappa.

Ridgeland Campus Delta Epsilon Chi members (l to r) Courtney Middleton, Linda Truesdale and Karri Chatham are counting pennies collected in a drive organized by the group to support the United Way by raising a minimum of 10,000 pennies.

Students learn by doing in class-related clubs

BULLDOG SPORTS

A Winning Tradition

As much a part of a college's history as the classes, buildings and traditions, athletics have become an integral part of college life.

Since the early days of the college, sports have been embraced with enthusiasm by both the students and alumni. At that time, Bulldog fans could cheer on the football, men's basketball, women's basketball and baseball.

Today a student at Holmes Community College can pursue almost any athletic endeavor for which he or she has the talent, ability and desire.

In addition to football, basketball and baseball, men can compete as members of the track team, cross country team, tennis team, soccer team or the golf team.

Women at Holmes are afforded the opportunity to participate in basketball, soccer, softball, track, cross country or tennis.

Sports are not limited to the Goodman Campus; soccer has been offered to students at both the Ridgeport Campus and Grenada Center.

And through it all, the Holmes cheerleaders have led students, staff and alumni as they support the football team, men's basketball team and women's basketball team.

Holmes' athletics are yet another example of the tradition of excellence that has been established at the college in the last 75 years.

BULLDOG SPORTS Football

Few can imagine the fall season without football; certainly the sport has been a part of Holmes Community College from its earliest days.

The Bulldog football squad has certainly had its share of success. In 1945, they were named co-champions.

The 1950 squad took home the state championship. In 1951, the Bulldogs participated in the Lions Bowl Game in Laurel, winning over Scooba, and later in the Memorial Game in Jackson and the Gulf Bowl at Del Mar, Texas.

The state championship trophy again came to Goodman in 1981. The Bulldogs have won the North Half twice since, once in 1988 and again in 1996, which gave them a chance to contend for the state title.

In a league that is known as one of the toughest at the JuCo level, the Bulldogs have always held their own and often excelled.

Men's Basketball

The love of basketball has been a part of Holmes throughout its history. This was evidenced in the early days when male students and staff members worked together to build a gymnasium.

With many talented athletes donning the maroon-and-white, the men's basketball teams have enjoyed many seasons of success.

Over the years, the men's basketball team has made numerous appearances at both the state tournaments and the Region XXIII tournaments.

The men's basketball team has won five state championships: 1929-30; 1933-34; 1935-36; 1951-52; and 1955-56.

Teams have placed second four times: 1936-37; 1937-38; 1948-49; and 1952-53.

The 1947-48 and 1974-75 teams placed third.

In the 1989-90 season, the team was ranked in the national top 25 and won both the East Central and Mississippi Delta tournaments.

For more than half of the sport's history at the college, the name King has been associated with it. Bennie King served as the head coach from 1947 until his retirement in 1997.

Since then, his son Todd King has been at the helm.

BULLDOG SPORTS

Women's Basketball

The Lady Bulldogs women's basketball team enjoys a rich history studded with victories.

The winning began early, with a second place finish in the state in the 1933-34 season. The Lady Bulldogs hold four state championships: 1936-37; 1940-41; 1990-91; 1991-92. In the 1940-41 and 1991-92 seasons, the teams only suffered one loss on the court.

The 1990-91 team's second-place finish in the Region XXIII Tournament was avenged the following year as the 1991-92 team won the Region XXIII trophy and a berth in the National Junior College Athletic Association national tournament, where they placed fifth.

The 1981-82 team finished second in the North Half, fifth in Region XXIII and 14th nationally.

The Lady Bulldogs have placed second in the state on five occasions. They have also made it to the quarter-finals of the Region XXIII Tournament three times.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders have a history that dates back to 1929, when Ethelyn and Otis cheered on the Bulldogs. The next year, the squad grew to three members, two women and one man.

Over the years, the numbers have varied and some of the squads have been co-ed while others have been all-women groups.

The excellence of the squads is evidenced by the numerous ribbons, trophies and spirit sticks they have won at the UCA camps they have attended each summer in preparation for the upcoming football and basketball seasons.

In addition to cheering at the games the cheerleaders are responsible for planning and leading pep rallies, painting signs and putting them around campus and letting the teams know that the students, staff, alumni and friends of the college are behind them as they strive for victory on the field and court.

BULLDOG SPORTS

Soccer

Soccer is the new kid on the block in the Holmes Community College athletic arena.

The sport was introduced on the Ridgeland Campus in 1997 under the leadership of Mike Curley, who still heads up the program.

The next year, soccer offerings expanded to include a men's team at the Grenada Center and a women's team on the Goodman Campus.

This year, the Goodman Campus men's team was inaugurated. Coach Alex Tsema serves as head coach for both the men's and women's teams on the Goodman Campus.

BULLDOG SPORTS Baseball

*T*he Diamond Dogs established a tradition of winning early in their history, winning two state championship titles in 1929-30 and 1931-32 and three consecutive state championships in 1937-38, 1938-39 and 1939-40.

In 1950-51, with Coach Oliver L. Poole, the team once again became the Mississippi Junior College Champions and the North Mississippi Champions.

Coach Quinby Morgan, who retired from his role as head coach of the baseball team at the end of the 1999 season, served as head for most of the 1970s.

After taking a break after the 1988 season, Morgan returned to coach the team in 1992.

BULLDOG SPORTS

Softball

Although a relative newcomer to the athletic offerings at Holmes Community College, the women's softball team has already become accustomed to success.

Added to the Bulldog sports offerings in 1994, the women's softball team was coached by Dan Edwards, who still serves as head coach.

Assistant coach Terry Fancher joined the team in 1998.

In the team's first season, the Lady Bulldogs made it to the state playoffs and was one of eight teams in the country to be invited to the national tournament.

In 1996, the team was honored for its members' accomplishments both on and off the field.

They finished third in the North Division and qualified for the state playoffs.

They were also named the national slowpitch team of the year by the National Junior College Athletic Association for having a 3.29 GPA average.

Sophomore team member Lakesha O'Briant was Holmes' first All-American softball player when she received the honor as a freshman.

Above. Lakesha O'Briant was the first member of the Lady Bulldogs women's softball team to be named an All-American player.

BULLDOG SPORTS

Tennis

Holmes student Lillian Hyde lettered in tennis in 1948.

The sport of tennis has been an enjoyable pastime at Holmes for many years, even when there has not been a formal team at the college. But the Bulldogs have put both a men's team and a women's team on the court to face the other community colleges in the state for a number of years.

In the last 60s, Robert Garrison served as the coach for three years. In 1971, Bennie Kimble, who was the head men's basketball coach at Holmes for over 30 years, took over the coaching duties. He remained the tennis coach for the next 14 years.

For a few years, Holmes did not field a team. In 1991, the tennis team returned, with Robert Harris as the men's coach and Audra Love Kimble as the women's coach.

Under their guidance, Jan Hutchinson reached the number three spot in the state.

In 1996, assistant football coach Tony Cook was appointed to coach both the men's and women's tennis teams. In the 1998 season, Lucy Hall was ranked third in the state.

This year, assistant football coach Andy Wood took over as the tennis coach. After holding tryouts in the early part of the spring semester, the teams began competition around the first part of March. The season culminates with the state tournament held each year at the end of April.

BULLDOG SPORTS

Golf

Although a relative newcomer to the roster of Holmes Community College athletics, the golf team has already set a high standard for teams to follow in the future.

Started in 1995 under the leadership of head coach Gary Sheppard, who serves as Holmes director of bands so he can make money to play golf, earned the rank of second in the state in only its third year of existence.

Also in 1997, two of Holmes' team members were nationally ranked. Steve Chambliss was ranked 17th among the nation's community college golfers, while Kent McLeod was ranked 38th in the nation.

In the State/Region XXIII Tournament that year, Ackerman native Steve Chambliss was named the tournament medalist and first team All-State and All-Region after shooting a 76 during the first day of the tournament.

Teammate Kent McLeod, also from Ackerman, shot a 78 on the first day to place him as the fifth medalist All-State and All-Region.

Their performance at the State/Region XXIII Tournament qualified Chambliss and McLeod to compete against some of the finest community college golfers in the country at the national tournament, which was held in Vass, N.C.

The following year, Steve Chambliss and another Ackerman native, Hunter Vaughn, missed getting the Bulldogs another ticket to the national tournament by only three strokes in the State/Region XXIII Tournament.

Former Holmes golf team members, Steve Chambliss (left) and Kent McLeod, both from Ackerman, were both nationally ranked in the 1997 season and played in the national tournament held in Vass, N.C. Chambliss was ranked 17th nationally while McLeod was ranked 38th.

Track & Cross Country

Both the track team and the cross country team enjoyed a rich history at Holmes Community College but were dropped from the list of athletic offerings for a number of years. However, recently both teams were brought back.

Holmes created its own cross country track, Bulldog Trails, and refurbished the track at Ras M. Branch Stadium.

Both teams have competed at the national tournaments.

In Memorium

Dr. Marilyn Burrell

It is for her many gifts that Dr. Marilyn Burrell will be remembered. She will be remembered for the gifts she possessed, her brilliance and her boundless talents, as well as the gifts she gave away, the gift of her friendship and the gift of her spirit that remains with all of those whose lives she touched.

Her courage, strength and determination were an inspiration; she etched an impression on our hearts in immeasurable ways. Her life was a light that sparkled brightly but too briefly.

Henry B. McClellan

The impact that Henry B. McClellan Jr. had on Holmes Community College will be felt far into the next century. As executive vice president and business manager for over 30 years, McClellan kept a watchful eye on expenditures and kept the college on solid financial footing even through difficult economic times.

He carried out his duties to the college with a commitment that began in his days as a student at Holmes and continued to deepen with each passing fall and each passing spring at the school.

On the road of life, what do you see ahead of you?

Years of school, a lot of hard work and hopefully a job helping people understand the origin of life and what is in store after death.

LOOKING BACK on our past AHEAD to our future

If you could turn back the hands of time, what would you change?

If I could change one thing it would be...making myself a lesser softhearted person. I would like to be able to open up to people more about everything, their problems and mine. I would not be stereotypical of all women just because a few are no good. I would try to get along with people all people. I would like to have a better relationship with my father also.

LOOKING BACK on our past AHEAD to our future

If you could turn back the hands of time, what would you change?

To me, time has no meaning. The world is everchanging, and we can not avoid what might occur. I know that everything has happened for a reason. On the other hand, I would like to state that my time at Holmes has been great. The support that I have gained from such people as Mrs. Tierce and Dr. Harville will be missed when I leave next year.

I would educate more youth about drugs and violence and train counselors to better recognize troubled youths who might have violent tendencies. The school tragedies like Pearl and Columbine would never have happened.

Looking ahead to the next 10 years, what will change you the most?

During the next 10 years, I will have to adapt to the various changes myself, along with the world, will achieve. With vast improvements in technology and science, there is no telling what a citizen of the human race can achieve. 10 years ago who would have really known about the Internet. 10 years from now there will be some other invention changing the environment. As far as personal, I will have to develop a different outlook on personal goals. It is my future and I plan on having a career.

LOOKING BACK on our past AHEAD to our future

Looking back over the past year, what's your favorite memory?

As I look back over my past year at Holmes Community College, my best memory is the 1999 homecoming week. The entire week SGA had dress-up week: hippie day, camo day, spirit day, pajama day. Then, we attended the Goodman homecoming parade, pep rally, and dance. Finally, Saturday, October 16, 1999, homecoming took place. I was recognized as Student Body Maid and was escorted by Kevin Lewis.

This year has been a year of looking back and looking ahead. We have looked back on our past as we have begun celebrating our 75th anniversary. We have ushered in a new millenium and have been looking to the future with great anticipation.

With Holmes Community College's celebration of 75 years of providing quality education, we have been able to see where we've been and catch a glimpse of the college our parents and grandparents attended.

We have seen how those who have worked at Holmes, served on Holmes' Board of Trustees, and attended the college have protected the school and worked to strengthen it through some of the most trying times in American History, such as the Depression, World War II and Vietnam. Knowing this, we can take pride in our institution.

We can take pride in the impact it has had on the community it serves. The college has given many people throughout its nine-county district an opportunity to learn, to grow and to excel in the classroom, on the playing field, on the stage and in the workforce.

As we have seen looking back over the past 75 years, after the students have been touched by Holmes, they often return the favor. The alumni have given back to the college whenever called upon to do so.

The alumni and other friends of the college worked diligently to renovate and refurbish the former president's home and create Holmes House, the alumni house used for receptions, meetings and overnight guests of the college.

Sophomore Jeremy Ellis, a guard/forward from Picayune, dunks the ball at Midnight Madness. The pep rally kicks off basketball season and includes introduction of all the players on the men's basketball team, prizes, a dunking exhibition and a scrimmage game.

They also gave generously when called upon to contribute to the "Lighting the Way" campaign and the Chapel Fund. Supporters of Holmes Community College have impacted the school in a myriad of ways.

Now it's our turn. Some of us are sophomores who are ready to graduate. Others are freshmen who will return to Holmes next year. Either way, the future of Holmes is entrusted to us.

FRIENDS

Friends enjoy the cookout held as part of the back-to-school activities.

Mr. and Miss Bully help entertain Bulldog fans at the beach party pep rally, traditionally the first pep rally of the year.

Friends work to together to win a soccer game.

We must strive to live up to the example the students of the first 75 years has set for us. Some of us may return to Holmes to teach, to coach or to work in administration; some of us may serve as presidents of the alumni association; some of us may send our children or grandchildren. Others may follow careers that lead them away from Goodman, Ridgeland and Grenada.

Wherever our lives lead us, we must keep Holmes in our hearts and work to ensure that Holmes' next 75 years are as full of success, strength and steadfastness as the first 75 years.

Friends enjoy ice cream in the Lorange Student Center.

Friends in the Holmes Connection! support the Bulldogs at a pep rally.

Holmes'

The college that began 75 years ago as an outgrowth of Holmes County Agricultural High School is, in many ways, very different from the college with three campuses spanning a nine-county district that it is today.

However, in one respect, it is very much the same. Holmes has kept throughout its history one goal first and foremost: meeting the educational needs of the citizens of central Mississippi.

To that end, the college has adapted and expanded both in terms of the physical plant and course offerings. Despite the school's growth, the personal attention given to the students by faculty and staff has not diminished throughout the years.

Although Holmes has far more computers and far fewer cows, the driving force behind the school has not changed. The college continues to strive to provide the course offerings and programs to enable its students to fulfill their educational and career goals.

The college has maintained a solid base of academic offerings, such as English comp, history and the sciences, and supplemented those with a variety of other courses such as creative writing, drawing and marriage and family.

As the state's employment opportunities have shifted from primarily agricultural to industrial, medical and technical, the college has dropped and added programs accordingly. This has provided the students with training for fulfilling careers and central Mississippi employers with well-trained employees.

Cheerleaders Kourtney Polk (seated, left) and Chastity May (seated, right) visit with Holmes president Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr. Dr. and Mrs. Morgan invited the cheerleaders over during football season.

Holmes has a thriving nursing program, including both associate degree nursing and licensed practical nursing offerings. Other medical-related technical programs include occupational therapy assistant, which is offered at the Ridgeland Campus, and surgical technology, which is offered at the Grenada Center, and medical office technology, offered at all three campuses.

Holmes offers a number of other options in the college's vocational-technical programs, including drafting and design, cosmetology, mortuary science and computer network support technology.

In addition to the academic and vocational-technical offerings, Holmes Community College also gives its students the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of extracurricular activities. For those who have athletic abilities, Holmes fields teams in football, basketball, women's basketball, baseball, softball, soccer, women's soccer, golf, tennis, women's tennis, track and cross country.

For those who are musically inclined, Holmes has the marching band, steel drum band, jazz band, concert band, concert choir, Coachmen, and The Holmes Connection! Others interested in the arts can participate in two drama organizations, Holme Towne Players and Delta Psi Omega.

Of course, there are a number of other organizations, ranging from Phi Theta Kappa, international honor society for the two year school, to Phi Beta Lambda, the business honor society.

Each program, service, organization and activity is designed with the student in mind. By serving the needs of the citizens of central Mississippi, Holmes Community College has been an integral part of the community for 75 years. It has not only survived; it has thrived.

Friends in the Holmes Connection! enjoy performing together.

Editor's Letter

RAKENDA HARMON

The 1999-2000 school year has been very exciting and rewarding! I have grown as an individual and accomplished many goals. Holmes Community College has enriched my life in so many ways. In each of our lives, we all set goals and strive to achieve them. Getting an education plays a tremendous role in our lives. The amount and quality of our education molds our entire future.

I commend the Horizons staff for the helping hands, strong minds, determination, time and effort. Putting this annual together has been a challenge but the reward is a book filled with memories you can cherish forever! I would like to thank the administrators, faculty and staff for their dedication. There is truly a sense of openness and a caring atmosphere at this campus. Thank you Mrs. Blanton for your patience, help, time and guidance. I am honored to have the opportunity of being editor of Horizons.

I thank God for all my endeavors and for making this annual a success. I also thank my mother, Mrs. Sarah Harmon, for all the support, love and for making me believe in myself. There is no way I could have made it this far without you! I love you!

To the students of Holmes Community College I say a big thank you! You provided us with wonderful quotes, which were highly appreciated. I hope you will enjoy reading this yearbook as we enjoyed making it.

Horizons 2000

Holmes Community College's 2000 Horizons, Volume 71, consists of 240 pages on a 9 X 12 format. The book contains 80# paper and a Smyth binding. There 24 color pages.

The 1,400 copies of the book were printed at Taylor Publishing Co., Inc., in Dallas, Texas. The sales representative was Ben Allen. The in-plant representatives were Melody Lundquist and Toni Wood.

The cover consists of a Silver Mylar base with a splint grain and silver foil stamp and maroon 806 applied color. The endsheet is 80# Rainbow in maroon with a silver foil stamp. The cover and endsheets were designed by graphic artist April E. Murphy and Caron Blanton.

All pages were composed on a Power Macintosh 6100/66 and a Macintosh G3 using PageMaker 6.0, Freehand 4.0 and Photoshop 5.5. WordPerfect 3.0 was used for writing and editing copy for the publication. Pages were submitted to the plant on SyQuest and Iomega disks for output directly to a negative.

Fonts used include Impact for headlines, subheads and captions; Divinity for body copy; and Simmissa for pull quotes.

The two spot colors used throughout the book are Vineyard #63 and Silver #81.

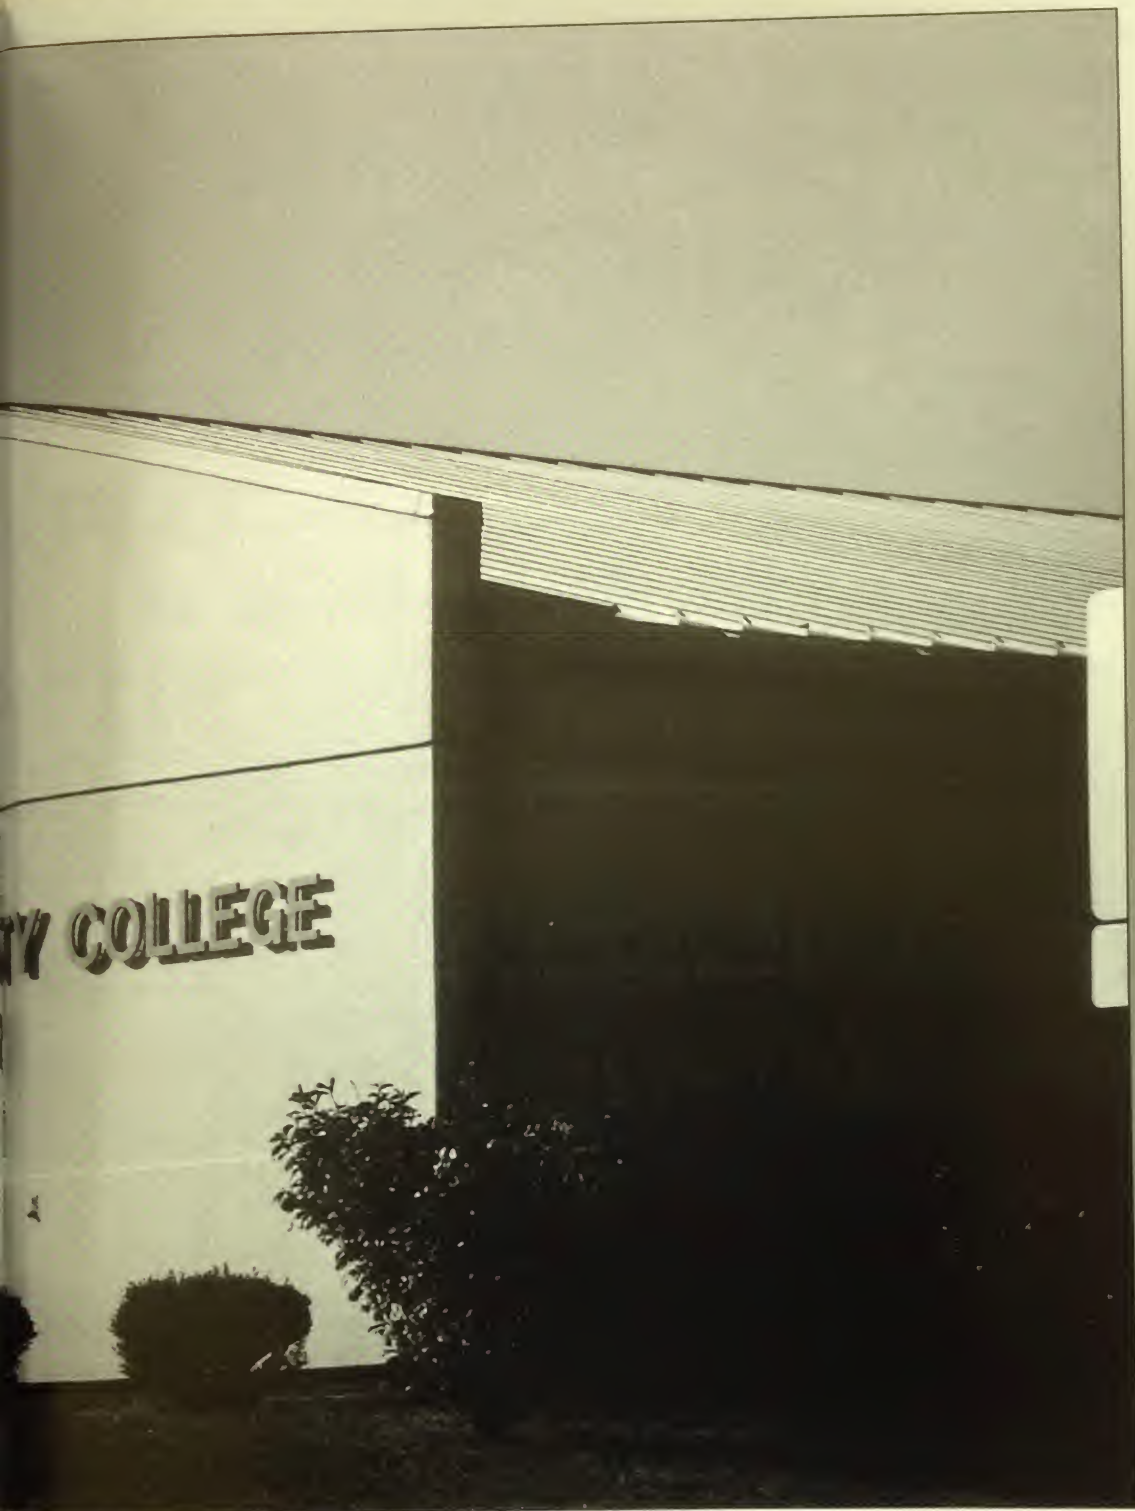

Portrait photographs were taken by Mississippi School Pictures, Inc., Jackson, Miss.

The viewpoints represented in this yearbook are solely of the staff and in no way intend to reflect college policy.
